

| Academician Profiles

Prof. Jiang Linhua, a Renowned Scholar in China, Elected European Academy of Natural Sciences

Jiang Linhua, professor, doctoral director, foreign academician of the National Academy of Engineering of Ukraine, the top ten scientific and technological leaders of Chinese in Europe. He is also the first batch of experts of the "China Science and Technology Think Tank", high-level overseas students of the Ministry of Human Resources and Social Affairs. He is also the expert of the Sea of Wisdom, the "Oriental Scholars" special professors of Shanghai, high-level special experts of Zhejiang Province, visiting professor of Stanford University.

Mr. Wang has been engaged in the field of Artificial Intelligence and Smart Network for a long time. He has long been engaged in the scientific research of artificial intelligence, intelligent network and optoelectronic information. He has worked in the European Microelectronics R&D Center IMEC, the National Electronics Nano Center of the Netherlands, Stanford University, the University of California, and PSI Paul Scherrer National Laboratory in Switzerland for more than ten years. He has published more than two hundred scientific and technical papers, and has served as a reviewer for many SCI international mainstream journals. He has presided over more than ten national and provincial research projects, and hosted the China-Europe International Academic and Exchange Conference for many years.

He is the National Institute of Software and Integrated Circuits Internet of Things Industrial Research Technology Commission, the Ministry of Science and Technology, key special assessment experts. He is also the National Foundation of the evaluation of experts, the Ministry of Education of the degree of expert, the provincial key projects will be evaluated by the experts. He is also the chief professor of the French International Institute of Business Administration and Technology. And he is one of the special professors of the Chinese Academy of Sciences and universities and institutes in East China.

At the same time, he is the National Institute of Software and Integrated Circuits Internet of Things Industrial Research Technology Commission, the Ministry of Science and Technology, key special assessment experts. He is also the National Foundation of the evaluation of experts, the Ministry of Education of the degree of expert, the provincial key projects will be evaluated by the experts. Mr. Wang has been engaged in the field of Artificial Intelligence and Smart Network for a long time.

Meanwhile, he is Shanghai "Oriental Scholars" special professor, Shanghai high-level special experts, high-level special experts in Zhejiang Province, Stanford University visiting professor. He is the French International Institute of Business Administration and Technology chief professor, the Chinese Academy of Sciences and East China and other colleges and universities and institutes special professors.